THE INFLUENTIAL ASSISTANT: The 45th Annual Administrative Professionals Course

Let me invite you to join us for the 45th Annual Administrative Professionals Course. Two great venues - the Hyatt Regency at New Orleans, Louisiana and the Luxor Hotel and Resort at Las Vegas, Nevada.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

This comprehensive and transformative program is ideally suited to the professional development needs of experienced and competent administrative assistants, executive assistants, office managers, and others who wish to bring their skills to a new professional level. This course will enable the participant to better manage their offices and partner with their manager, thereby advancing their careers.

THE PROGRAM

Success in your present role as well as your future responsibilities is dependent on a number of key management, interpersonal and organizational skills. By adopting and developing an MBA approach to managing projects, priorities and deadlines while deflecting job-related stress, dealing more effectively with different and sometimes difficult people and improving your memory and concentration, you will gain a deeper sense of satisfaction and accomplishment.

“ This is the Cadillac, no, the Rolls-Royce of Administrative Professional Programs. Everything about the course is first-class - the hotel, materials, meals, refreshments and above all the faculty. Paul Douglas is the BEST speaker I have ever heard - bar none. I learned so much, made wonderful new friends, relaxed and renewed my commitment to my company in superb surroundings. This course is not inexpensive, but you get what you pay for. It meant so much to me that my boss thought I was worth the very best. **”

COURSE HIGHLIGHTS

QUALITY EDUCATIONAL EXPERIENCE

First and foremost we provide the best educational experience available today. We use the university standard; all our courses are taught by qualified faculty not scripted presenters. All of our faculty members hold, as a minimum, a Master's Degree from a fully accredited university and one or more professional qualifications, (Ph.D., CMC, JD., PMP, etc.). Our faculty also have an average of 15 years experience working with administrative professionals.

NETWORKING: FRIENDS AND FUN One of the greatest benefits of attending a truly limited enrollment residential program comes from the networking and camaraderie that takes place outside of the educational sessions. It is for this reason that, unlike other conferences and courses, where participants must find their own accommodations, arrange their own meals, etc. at The Influential Assistant: Annual Administrative Professional Course, everyone is under the same roof because your hotel room and much more is included in your course fee. This accommodation and meal package represents a $1,000+ value that at other seminars participants must pay for out of pocket.

We also invite you to join us at our hosted SOCIAL FUN MIXER. This cocktail party is a great kickoff to this exciting course and a great vehicle to meet and connect with faculty and your fellow attendees.

THE EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM

EDUCATION FOR GROWTH

New Orleans and Las Vegas are fun, the course is exciting, but most importantly you will leave this comprehensive educational program with NEW skills as well as a greater understanding of who you really are! Specifically, at this seminar you will develop the two key set of skills listed on the right:

Social Intelligence Skills

- Establish greater trust and rapport with others
- Amplify your “social intelligence” for more celebrated professional and personal success
- Develop effective influence strategies, based on your behavioral style, for getting things done through others and resolving conflicts within your team
- Develop proven techniques for coping with different and sometimes difficult people
- Acquire insights into your personal behavioral style; coming face to face with your strengths and weaknesses
- Develop the behaviors specific to leadership for administrative professionals
- Strategic Diplomacy: What it is and how it can help you to handle office politics and conflicts.

Strategic Skills

- Become a strategic partner with your boss
- Apply best practices for effectively prioritizing your own time and activities while protecting your manager's time
- Get what you need from others to accomplish your job and achieve your boss's objectives
- Apply a new spectrum of priority setting and time-management strategies to pro-actively perform more
- Eliminate those embarrassing moments of forgetting someone's name
- Remember instructions, appointments and learn to deliver presentations without the need for written notes
- Develop strategies for preventing, reducing, and managing stress
- Lose your fear of Kineahora and improve your self-esteem
- Enhance your professional image

YOUR COMPREHENSIVE AGENDA

STEPPING UP TO LEADERSHIP: From Administrative Assistant to Administrative Professional

While some of the “old guard” believes that the 1990’s name change from secretary through administrative assistant to administrative professional is just another example of political correctness, it, in fact, represents a real paradigm shift. Many of the functions and responsibilities of management have fallen on the shoulders of administrative professionals as organizations have downsized over the past decade. In this important session, we will discuss this new reality and develop those crucial management tools needed to take you to a higher level of proficiency. You will learn how to:

- Make the vital transition from administrative assistant to administrative professional
- Understand your changing role and your manager’s expectations
- Increase credibility as your boss’ representative
- Establish communication channels that build trust
- Recognize and eliminate boss/assistant problems

- Minimize defensiveness in yourself and others
- How to conduct a successful disciplinary interview
- Interviewing when the goal is information
- Avoid the greatest mistake administrative professionals make in interviews
- Implement the nine-step coaching discussion model
- Peer conflicts: How to defuse them before they infect the entire workgroup
- Position yourself for greater responsibility

ACQUIRING POWERFUL NEW SKILLS OF MEMORY AND CONCENTRATION

To master your memory is to invite success in business, in education and in your relationships. A trained memory is an absolute necessity in today’s competitive work environment - particularly for administrative professionals. At this remarkable session, you will:

- Acquire laser-like focus and concentration
- Learn and apply the proven 7 step system for remembering names and faces
- Become a more confident, masterful public speaker by learning to speak without written notes
- Develop memory techniques that minimize “stage fright”
- Remember anniversaries, telephone numbers, appointments and other numerical data with ease and without time-consuming repetition
- Forget your daily planner – File your weekly appointments in your mind
- Painlessly remember information that will boost your career
- Make a more powerful impression at meetings and presentations
- Razor-sharpen your business edge: Remembering verbal instructions and financial data
- Discover creative powers you didn’t know you had
- Enhance your image as a professional with ease and cure absentmindedness ... Forever!

A Message From Dr. Paul Douglas

Many of our past participants have reported that the Douglas administrative professionals course was much more than a seminar it was a life-changing event. As a result of the residential nature of the program they were able to focus on themselves, their needs, feelings, and life in ways not possible amidst their busy daily routines. As well, one of the greatest benefits of attending a truly limited enrolment residential program comes from the networking and camaraderie that takes place outside of the educational sessions themselves. We understand this, and it is for precisely this reason that, unlike other courses, where participants must find their own accommodations, arrange their own meals, etc., at The 45th Annual Administrative Professional Course everyone is under the same roof. For well over forty years we have had the honor of welcoming over 100,000 administrative professionals from virtually every major public and private organization in North America. The praise our courses continue to receive reflects the persistent research and subsequent revision which ensures that our programs are always at the cutting-edge. I want to invite you to experience the Douglas Difference personally.

THE DOUGLAS DIFFERENCE

With training budgets stretched tightly today, it is essential you obtain the very best training available today. The Influential Assistant: 45th Annual Administrative Professionals Course is a comprehensive and intensive program designed to explore and develop the intellectual, organizational and interpersonal abilities of each participant. Four essential qualities make the Douglas Difference:

1. A TRULY LIMITED ENROLLMENT COURSE

We know your time is valuable, that is why we have NOT designed a conference in which you will be crammed into a ballroom with hundreds of others to listen to a bevy of motivational speakers. At this program, you are a student, not an audience member. This course is a content rich, practical, educational experience where real and meaningful skills are taught. The communication is “two-way” fostering open dialogue. You will leave this program with new tactics and approaches that will immediately improve your organizational and interpersonal skills, as well as enhance the partnership you have with your boss.

2. AMERICA'S HIGHEST RATED AND LONGEST RUNNING ADMINISTRATIVE PROFESSIONAL'S EVENT

Since day one, we have worked closely with HR departments, managers, and administrative professionals themselves to ensure that our courses meet the rigorous needs of our participants. It is from our experience over the last four decades that we have meticulously crafted our programs. The praise this course consistently receives reflects our persistent research and subsequent revision ensuring this seminar is at the cutting edge.

3. A PROFESSIONALLY CERTIFIED COURSE TAUGHT BY EXPERTS

We use the university standard; all of our courses are taught by academically qualified experts in the field, not scripted presenters. Knowledgeable and entertaining, each of our faculty members holds at least a Master's Degree from a fully accredited university and one or more professional qualifications, (Ph.D, CMC, PMP, etc.) Our faculty members also have on average more than 15 years' experience educating administrative professional.

4. FIRST-CLASS ACCOMMODATION INCLUDED

One of the greatest benefits of attending a truly limited enrollment residential program comes from the networking and camaraderie that takes place outside of the educational sessions. It is for this reason that, unlike other courses, where participants must find their own accommodations, arrange their own meals etc., at The Influential Assistant: The 45th Annual Administrative Professionals Course everyone is under the same roof. Your course fee includes your tuition, accommodation (room & taxes) breakfast each day, a hosted bar and social mixer, luncheon on day two, comprehensive materials package - program workbook and manual, individual Multidimensional Inventory & Normative Diagnoses (iMind2) as well as an individual password for online materials to assist you after the program is finished.

SENIOR FACULTY LEADERSHIP

At respected universities, courses are taught by academically qualified individuals - not scripted presenters or lightweight motivational speakers. All of our faculty members hold, as a minimum, a Master's Degree from a fully accredited university and one or more professional qualifications, (Ph.D, CMC, JD, PMP, etc.) Our faculty also have at least twelve years' experience in their field of expertise. This course will be lead by the following two senior faculty members:

Dr. Paul A. Douglas

Paul Douglas is an internationally acclaimed speaker and consultant to scores of major corporations, universities, and governments. He has written seven books and numerous articles of management, organization behaviour and the role of the administrative professional. His unique and effective approach to leadership training emphasizing the "people skills" of good management as well as strategic excellence has benefited tens of thousands of administrative professionals. He is a Certified

Management Consultant (CMC) and holds a Bachelor of Commerce (B.Com.) and Master of Business Administration (MBA) degree from the University of Alberta where he taught in the Faculty of Business. He also has a doctorate (Ph.D.) in business administration and organizational psychology. Most importantly, the insights and practical techniques he presents come from the real world, immediately you will feel at ease with Paul - he communicates with wit, warmth, authenticity, and enthusiasm.

Thomas E. Douglas

Tom Douglas has been featured in various public seminars throughout the country for several years and has also acted as a consultant to numerous individuals and Fortune 500 companies. Tom's keen understanding of organizational behaviour and wealth of real-world experience further enhances P.A. Douglas' acclaimed training programs. In addition, Tom has earned degrees in psychology (BA), business administration (MBA), and is an experienced team leader and project manager who holds the project management certification (PMP). Tom's passion for the focal topics, together with a sensible and approachable manner, will reach participants at all levels.

CONVINCING

THE 45th ANNUAL

ADMINISTRATIVE PROFESSIONALS COURSE

America's Leading and Most Comprehensive Administrative Professionals Event

... Getting your boss on side

If you are dying to attend The Influential Assistant: 45th Annual Administrative Professionals Course; but you are not sure how to convince your manager to let you go? Help is here!

Most companies and government agencies pick up the tab for their employees to attend outside courses and conferences, however, getting time off and permission to spend some of your organization's precious training budget on a course isn't always a "slam-dunk" proposition.

Remember that the cost of attending a course or conference is considerable - course fees, travel costs, and time-away-from-work. It is likely your managers will want some serious justification for you to attend a conference. Getting approval to attend the course is a two-part endeavor.

In addition to highlighting the benefits of the course itself, you will also want to show that you are the best person to attend - that you are the individual that your organization should invest Professional Development dollars in.

There are many reasons to attend an out of town course. One is simply a change of pace and the chance to get out of the office. However, that is not going to sell the idea of paying for a seminar to your boss. If you've decided you want to attend a course this year here are a few ways to convince your boss to foot the bill.

1. Remind the boss that you are a good employee. It's may sound obvious, but in today's organizations it is far than always the case.
2. Suggest that your organization, like most, demands more and more from its Administrative Professionals. Indicate that by acquiring new cutting-edge skills and knowledge, and increased confidence you will better meet the fast-changing challenges of today's leaner organizations.

... Continued

THE 45th ANNUAL

America's Leading and Most Comprehensive Administrative Professionals Event

3. Stress your goals - what do you expect to gain from the course or conference. Write down your goals and list any problems you're having or questions you need answered.
4. Discuss any issues that exist or have existed recently where training may have helped you deal more effectively with the situation.
5. Show your boss that the course is content rich, providing a list of the specific topics that will be covered.
6. Tell your boss about the seminar leaders. Stress that they are leaders in the field with outstanding academic credentials.
7. Highlight the fact that The Influential Assistant: 45th Annual Course for Administrative Professionals is the ORIGINAL and while now in it's forty-fifth year, the constant revision and improvement puts it at the cutting-edge.
8. Provide the boss with testimonials from prior attendees and a list of organizations that have sponsored participants in the past.
9. Offer to share materials and experiences with the rest of the team upon your return. Perhaps hosting a brown-bag lunch session to spread the new techniques around and reviews relevant content you learned at the course. From the boss's viewpoint, that means that everyone gets training for the cost of sending one person.

While a simple verbal request is sometimes all it takes, a written request is better. Write a memo to your boss outlining the program's features. Attach the brochure and highlight parts that show how you and the company will benefit. You might also want to have your manager view the attached PowerPoint presentation, "Making the Case for the 45th Annual Administrative Professionals Course," linked below:
